

One-Year MPA/MPP

The Martin School is proud to announce its new one year MPA and MPP program! This new delivery system for public policy and administration concepts will allow you to earn your degree in 11 months, saving both time and money. You will enroll with a small cohort of students and learn from high-quality faculty from across academic disciplines. These accelerated programs require mastery of all the concepts required of the traditional programs including the internship (through a group service learning project called MartinServes) and capstone.

Below you can see the layout of the program:
